Engineered for Peak Performance

RedPoint Forest Products has been a leading importer of quality plywood, flooring and furniture from Asia, Europe and South America for nearly 30 years. With offices in Shanghai, Hong Kong and Jakarta we support our production with local staff ensuring quality and consistency. Our onsite personnel inspect all production runs during and after manufacturing to ensure our products are always on spec when they arrive to your warehouse. No surprises!

The Green Story:

Wood grows naturally and is renewable. Sustainable forest management involves meeting the need for forest products while respecting the values people associate with forest lands, long term forest health and bio diversity for the future.

RedPoint Forest Products and our key factory partners are dedicated to excellent forest stewardship. Using fast growing wood species for our underlayment products provides both sustainability and consistency to RedPoint products.
